

TO SEE IN THE CIRCUIT

One of the pearls of the Ouche

The church of Saint-Jean-Baptiste :

Church of Saint Jean-Baptiste is a building with a long nave choir recessed. A sacristy of pentagonal shape, built of rubble, was added in the 19th century.

- The west facade is dominated by an 18th century rectangular tower, covered with slates to the roof, whose edges generate two ears.

- The north wall reveals the different phases of construction. The first two bays, as the facade, dating from the 16th century. Above the sandstone there is a clear checkerboard of chert, gray sandstone and conglomerate inclusions with ocher light. The three bays of the nave Romanesque include openings were sealed. Masonry's oldest dating from the 12th century is made of flint rubble, partly arranged in fishbone. The northern part of the choir, separated from the nave by a stack of Dapple could delineate the bedside of the primitive church.

- The south wall is more homogeneous. The first two bays are part of the expansion of the nave in the 16th century. A window was drilled. Between the second and sixth buttress, the base is about a meter of rubble and the rest of the wall has been coated. All openings are protected by grilles of 13th, 14th and 15th centuries.

Church of Saint Jean Baptiste was the subject of important works : the roofs of the choir and the sacristy, the facelift of the facade and the tower, rebuilding the floor of the nave.

Old School :

Facing the cemetery in a corner of road of Val de Juignes, this lovely house was probably built on the foundations of the old school, built in the mid-15th century by the Lord of Garenchieres, for children of his subjects and neighbouring parishes.

Castel of Rebais :

Castle of Rebais, while brick and pink tiles, stands out against a background of meadows and woods, forming a « pretty picture ». This property with a motte surrounded by water, its dependencies, its old dovecote and its garden, representative of the Norman countryside should attract the eye of the hikers.

This is in 1774 that Mr. De Corday and his wife settled in the castle of Rebais. It seems normal that the famous Charlotte Corday (1768-1793) has come several times with his parents to visit her aunt, who was also her godmother.

Farm of Rebais :

Part of the old tithe barn has been transformed Housing and the remainder in agricultural barn.

City hall and the school :

They were built in the 19th century.
